Cookie Policy

1. The Site uses cookies to distinguish you from other users of the Site. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our Site and also allows us to improve our Site. When you click on a link displayed on <https://www.saphysio.co.za/> there is a record of the fact that someone using your browser, as identified by your unique cookie, clicked on that link on our website.

2. What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small file containing a unique string of letters and numbers that South Africa Society of Physiotherapy (SASP) stores on your browser or the hardware of your computer if you agree. Cookies contain information that is stored on your computer's hard drive. On subsequent visits to the Site, the cookie allows the Site to recognise your browser. The unique string of letters and numbers in a cookie may store user preferences and other information.

When you first access our Site, you will receive a message advising you that cookies and similar technologies are in use. By clicking "accept cookies", closing the message, or continuing to browse the Site, you signify that you understand and agree to the use of these technologies, as described in this Cookie Policy. You will also have a choice of only accepting those cookies which are essential for the browsing of the site, without being disadvantaged in your browsing experience for not accepting other types of cookies, for example Marketing Cookies

We use the following categories of cookies:

2.1 Strictly Necessary Cookies

These are cookies that are required for the operation of our Site. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our websites, use a shopping cart or make use of e-billing services.

2.2 Performance and Functionality Cookies

These are used to recognise you when you return to our Site. This enables us to personalise our content for you and remember your preferences (for example, your choice of language or region), but are non-essential to the performance of the Site.

2.3 Analytical or Customisation Cookies

These cookies collect information about how users access and move through the Site. We use this information in either aggregate form to help us to improve the way our Site works, or to personalise our Site to your interests.

Advertising Cookies

These cookies are used to make the advertising displayed on the website more relevant to you. These cookies prevent ads reappearing and ensure that ads are properly displayed. Certain third-party cookies may track users over different websites will provide ads relevant to your interests. Visitors to our website will have an opportunity to consent to the use of such cookies.

Social Media Cookies

These cookies allow us to integrate social media functions into our Site and may also be used for advertising purposes. Visitors to our website will have an opportunity to consent to the use of such cookies.

4. Web Beacons

As well as cookies, we use other technologies to recognize and track visitors to our Site. A web beacon (also known as a “tracking pixel” or “clear GIF”) is a clear graphic image (typically a one-pixel tag) that is delivered through a web browser or HTML e-mail, typically in conjunction with a cookie.

Web beacons allows us, for example, to monitor how users move from one page within our Site to another, to track access to our communications, to understand whether users have come to our Site from an online advertisement displayed on a third-party website, to measure how ads have been viewed and to improve Site performance.

7. Changes to this Policy

This Cookie Policy may change from time to time. South Africa Society of Physiotherapy (SASP) will post those changes on this page and, if the changes are significant, South Africa Society of Physiotherapy (SASP) will provide a prominent notice on all its platforms.
